

Essay for Alex

Hey baby I said I would write you an essay so here you go. I will never ever waste your time, I want to spend loads of time with you but I never want to waste it. I love you so so so much baby, I've always had feelings for you deep down. When I first saw you I thought you were cute and quiet, I'm just picturing when me, you, Lincoln, Corey and Liam (I think he was there) were walking through Northernhay together. I'm not sure if you remember it but that might have been back when you had a crush on Lincoln. I've always wondered what you thought of me when you first met me. Anyway, getting side tracked. I thought you were so adorable and still do baby. I remember seeing you in college outside the classrooms and I'm not sure if you noticed but I used to sometimes glance over in your direction just so I could see you and take in your beautiful face and dream about kissing you. When I said on messenger that I just want to kiss you all of the time, I meant it and even to this day I still want to do it.

I know you always laugh at me for the fact that I had a crush on you and never did anything about it but it was hard for me as I never really had strong emotions for a guy like this before so at the start I was confused and nervous. You're the first and only guy I've ever had these feelings for. I do wish that I had done something back in college, like recently I wished I had just kissed you that time when you were with me outside English. I do feel bad for saying that I wanted to be with and then saying the complete opposite but I wasn't quite ready, I was so nervous, scared and I wasn't too sure on how people were going to react. At the beginning of this year when I saw that photo of you on Instagram I couldn't stop thinking about you, every night you would always pop into my mind and I would just lie in bed thinking about you and how much I wanted to be with you and kiss you. Now I don't care what people think, I just want to be with you and make you happy.

I love you so much baby that I can't use words to describe it. You really do make me happy sweetie. I want everything with you, I want to go travelling, I want to get engaged and married to you, I want to live together, I seriously want everything with you. I can't wait for our week in Brighton, I know I say it a lot but seriously I can't wait for it. Now I wouldn't waste your time if I wanted to spend the rest of my life with you. I wouldn't come out and date you if I was just going to waste your time baby. The day we met and kissed I knew then that I really want us to be together forever which is why I came out on the same day, I didn't want to hide it anymore.

I really love you baby and I always will. I know at times I can be a pain but just remember that I love you loads and loads. I want to help you with anything that's troubling you. I want to support you. I want to protect you. I want you to be happy. I want you to have anything that you want. I'm so lucky to have you as my boyfriend and I'm really happy that you're with me. Thank you for everything that you've done for me, I really appreciate it and just remember that I'm always here for you if you need to talk about anything that's worrying you or you need to vent some anger. If you are ever angry then you can literally vent at me and I will listen. I love you with all my heart baby and I want to be with you forever.
